If there is more than one child, the hour of return shall be the hour for the youngest child. If the parents cannot agree on a day, the day for the midweek parenting time is Wednesday. If a child is in a child care arrangement, the nonresidential parent may not pick up the child from the caretaker without the prior permission of the residential parent, preferably in writing.

3. Days of Special Meaning:

The other parent can celebrate on another date. The child's birthday is to be spent with the designated parent, even if the other parent is entitled to weekend, midweek, holiday or vacation with the child. ### 5. Vacations:

Two (2) weeks of parenting time, (unless otherwise stipulated), each year are to be arranged by the non-residential parent with not less than sixty (60) days advance notice. The nonresidential parent's choice of vacation has priority over the residential parent's choice, unless the residential parent's vacation is an annual mandatory shutdown of the place of employment, or unless the residential parent is required by an employer to give more than sixty days notice of intent to take a vacation and the nonresidential parent has no similar requirement. Likewise, the residential parent must give the other parent not less than sixty days advance notice of vacations or special plans for the child to avoid planning conflicts.

Summer school necessary for the child to pass to the next grade must be attended. Extended parenting time (vacation) may be scheduled by either parent during a mandatory summer school period, but the child must attend all classes.

Each parent must provide the other parent with destination, times of arrival and departure, and method of travel if the vacation will be outside the parent's community.

Vacation parenting time must be exercised in minimum periods of one week, and the nonresidential parent has the right to determine whether to exercise vacation in periods of two, three, four or five weeks.

Alternate weekends which normally would be spent with the residential parent, which fall during the non-residential parent's vacation must be given to the residential parent, or made up at another time. Alternate weekends which normally would be spent with the nonresidential parent and that fall during the residential parent's vacation must be given to the nonresidential parent to be made up at another time.

6. The residence of the child is not to be moved from the State of Ohio without first obtaining a modified parenting time order from the Family Court.

7. A parent late more than thirty minutes shall forfeit that parenting time unless the non-residential notified the residential at least one hour prior thereto.

8. Parenting time does not mean picking the children up and then leaving them with someone else, except for short periods with relatives.

9. These orders will be modified by the court if there is good cause shown for such change.

10. IT IS ORDERED, ADJUDGED and DECREED that the parties abide by these orders in the best interest of the children. Failure of either party to abide by these orders could result in a finding of contempt. This includes the orders that require the residential parent to have the children prepared for parenting time as well as the orders that require the non-residential parent to take the children for parenting time on the ordered days.
